Trading Partner Offers Desktop Collaborative Power

Trading Partner® delivers industry leading desktop EDI collaboration for Windows 95, 98, NT, and 2000 environments. Emanio's extensive experience in servicing the EDI management needs of thousands of enterprises has helped create a comprehensive desktop system — with the high performance capabilities designed to meet current and future needs of growing organizations.

Works The Way You Do

Trading Partner makes it easy for your firm to manage its EDI-based collaborative eBusiness program. This is the most intuitive desktop ever created for EDI. Simply point and click to start a job or review your transactions.

Wizards for Installation

Trading Partner takes advantage of powerful Wizards to simplify the entire EDI process. Wizards are smart graphical aids that simplify tasks such as installing software and hardware, or adding a trading partner.

Flexible Communications

Emanio is the largest VAN-independent supplier of EDI software for the PC. With Trading Partner, you can send and receive EDI data using direct connections to your firm's partners through automatic dial-out to VANs or over the Internet.

High Performance Translation

At the core of Trading Partner is a high-performance EDI translator written in C++. It's fast, efficient and a real powerhouse when teamed up with the latest PCs. Run multiple jobs at the same time, each in its own space and fully protected. Add new partners or new transactions. Trading Partner can handle it all with ease.

In Control

Everything your firm needs to run a tight ship is right at your fingertips. From your desktop, you get a full view of all information coming and going. All administrative functions are built in. Functional acknowledgments are generated, sent out, and tracked automatically. New partner profiles are created directly from inbound transactions. Transaction files. Audit information. System logs. They're all archived automatically. Just set the schedule and it's done.

Trading Partner Desktop

Speaks Your Language

Simple screens for entering data. Drop-down list boxes. Built-in edits. Standard reports such as transaction logs and acknowledgment reconciliations either printed or on-line. Plus, custom reports created to your specifications. And a "document turn-around" feature that lets you re-use the information sent by your partners. So inbound documents such as a Purchase Order can be automatically converted to an outbound Invoice. Same information, different purpose. This reduces keying, speeds processing and eliminates errors. It's why we say Trading Partner speaks your language!

Unattended Operation

As a stand-alone EDI workstation, or as part of an integrated system, Trading Partner can run completely unattended. It's simple. Just drag the jobs you want accomplished into a Task List. Set the time. All of your routine work, from dial-out to transmission, receiving, processing and more, is handled automatically.

Integrating EDI with your existing operations can produce a solid return on your firm's EDI investment. When your firm is ready to integrate, Emanio has the experience, expertise, and leading technology for mapping EDI data to and from enterprise applications.
